Rocket Farm Season 11: Back in Purple.

By Aflacteducky

Once again the Rocket Farm is back in explosive action! I've had the honor of holding the massive responsibility of supply free rockets (and free gunpowder!) for the entirety of Titancraft since Summer 2023. After Swirlybird242 gave me the reins and I haven't looked back.

Quick brief history on the rocket farm: Swirlybird242 completed the Rocket Farm for season 7 & 8 and was looking to give the project a new owner. I had unknowingly walking myself into the greatest life changing project by pure mistake. One evening I was helping swirlybird clean out some sugarcane, chatting back and forth late in the night when he dropped the bomb: he was leaving for college and needed someone to take over the rocket farm permanently. I sat in silence for a just a few moments and my mouth blurted out "yes I'll take over" before I had really thought about what that really meant. Suddenly was on the hook for hundreds of peoples rocket needs... and I had NEVER built a creeper farm in my entire minecrafting days since buying the gaming in 2013! No pressure!!!

Building one of the servers biggest public projects is no easy feat and cannot be done alone. The dedication and amazing help from 100's of players over the season is incredible and is only possible with redstone experts pushing the limits, lots of digging, tons of explosions, and crazy shenanigans, material and time donations (and lots of caffeine!) that make it all possible.

With a few seasons under my belt and a deep understanding on how to get such a monumental project done every year, its only fitting this season rocket farm is the next notch in crazy.

For season 11, I wanted something authentically Aflac, something I could share my love and passion to the server... and what's Aflac's favorite obsession? Besides the flamingos... Nascar... iRacing... 800 sheeps... Its the color purple! Purple is the theme of season 11!

Once this season finally got underway, I had layouts for the shop, the farm, and the nether tunnel, all dressed in purple. To realize this dream it only took a bunch of diggers, talented redstone experts, a crazy quadrupled in size sugarcane farm, tnt autocrafting mayhem, literally building dwb_2023 gold farm from season 10 to get 37 shulkers of crying obsidian this season, two hanging camels as disco balls, and one giant hole blasted in the ground, we have a rocket farm mega machine that pumps out rockets for all!

Rocket shop season 11. (-160 west nether tunnel).

Disco camels.

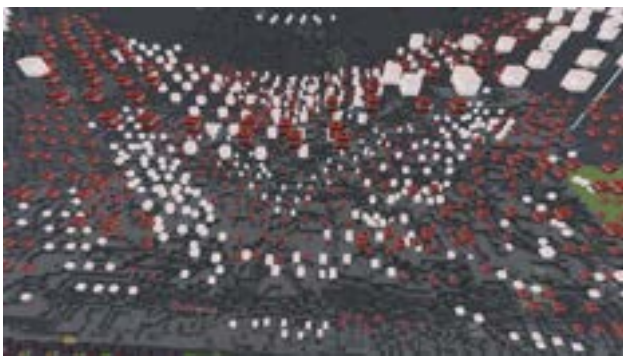

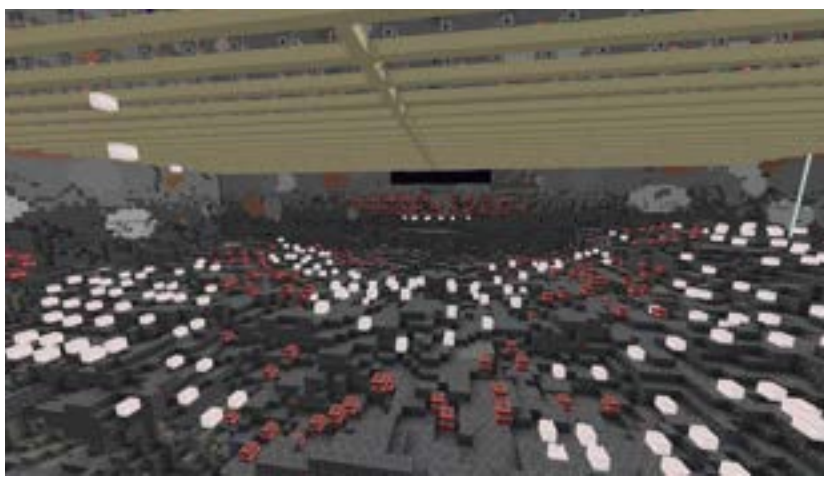

The blasting one of the most important steps in making the rocket farm. Clearing out chunks of land is key for fast efficiency of the farm and there's no better way to clear chunks then by blowing them up! Lots of fun is had each booming! Even some deaths!

Prepping for a booming run!

Giggles I'm in danger!

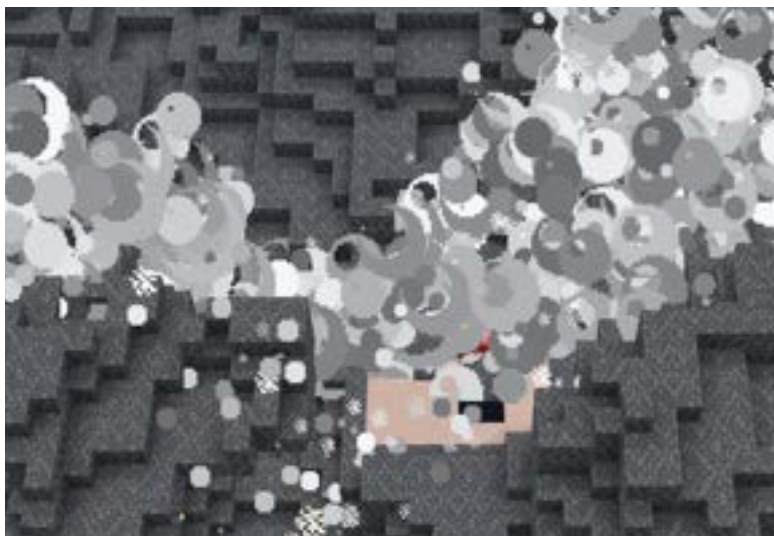

Massive booms.

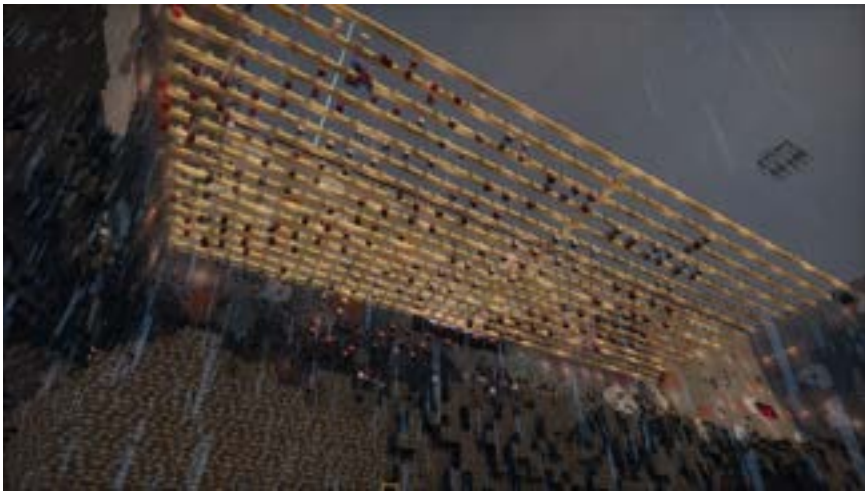

Phroday left a face in the booming hole!

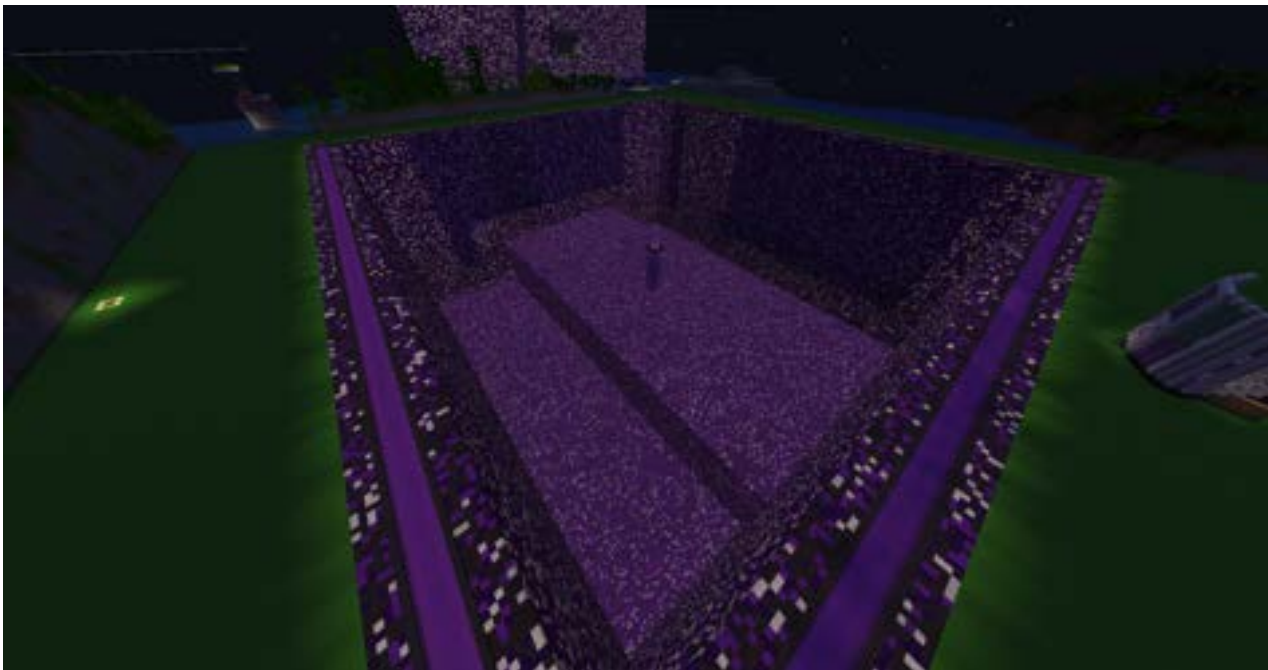

Phroday face.

No more Phroday.

After the booming, its all about putting the final decorating pieces together, the walls. The walls are the 2nd most important part of the farm as its what you first see! This years design is all made by Aflac and features an unholy amount of unnatural and hard to acquire blocks: blackstone, calcite, crying obsidian and purple concrete.

Once the last few blocks are placed, the rocket farm is done! Unlimited rockets for every titancraft player for the rest of the season! Aflac can rest and think about the season 12 of the rocket farm! Hooray!

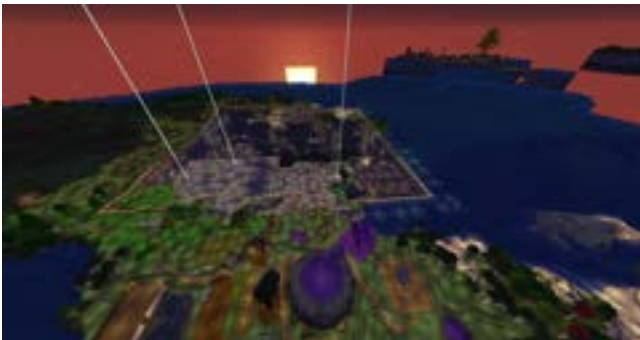

I want to thank everyone for their help getting the season 11 rocket farm done. Off to season 12!

Today I bring you another puzzle that I am totally not ripping off from NYT Strands. It's a simple word search where you connect letters in any direction to form a word. All the words are related to the theme and one of those words is the answer to what links the other 8 words. Play here using your mind or there's an interactive version HERE.

TRIANGLE TROUBLE: Famous Artwork STOLEN from Banhattan Gallery

By Herald Saltire

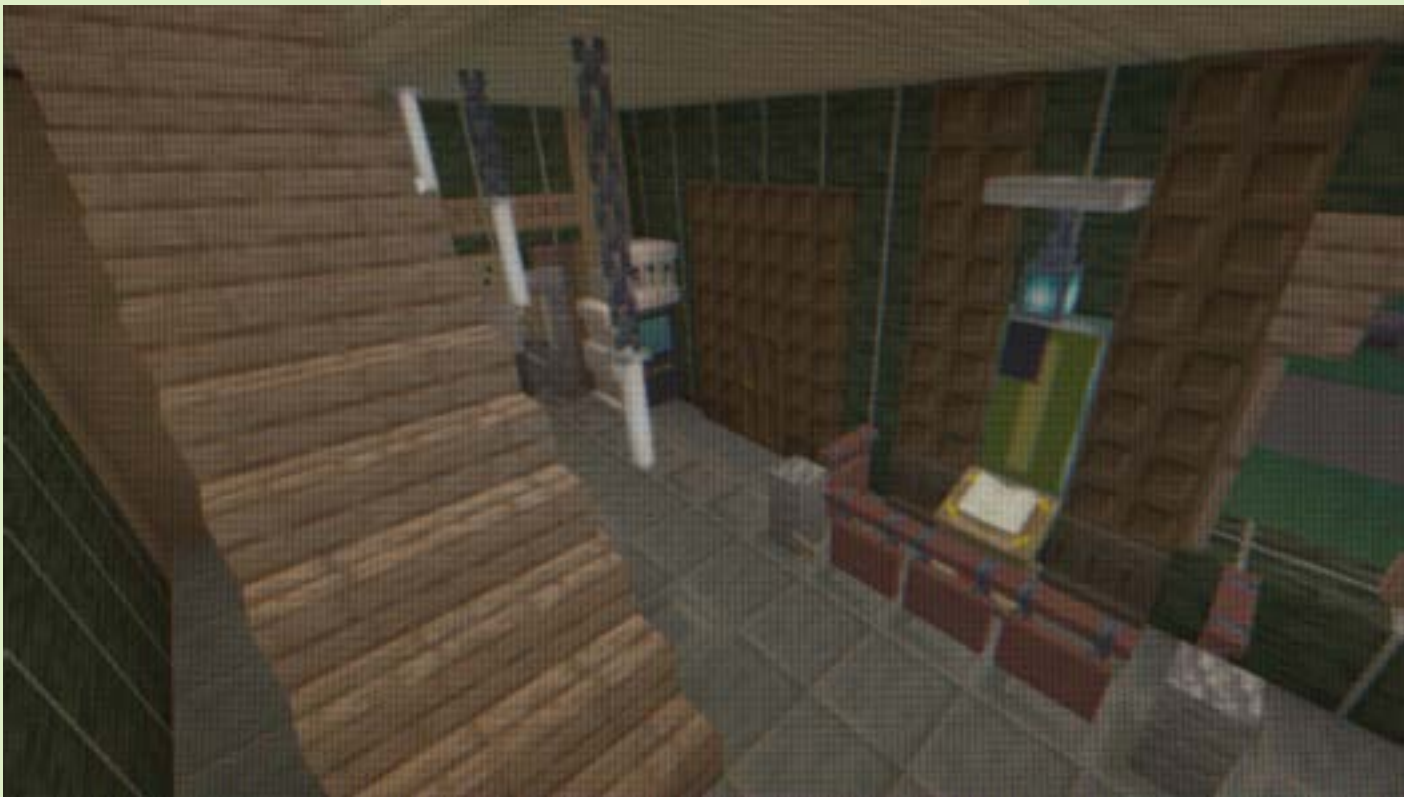

Nabbing this crown jewel is downright cruel! Triangle, the pride and joy of the Banhattan Gallery, has vanished after a break-in at 1:26am last night. According to reports, the culprit gained access through the staff door in the dead of night, and the alarms were mysteriously de-activated. Within minutes, the security camera feed turned off, and when it turned back on, the $227,000,000 diamond caper on canvas was complete, a mysterious calling card left behind. Only a few frames featuring the suspect were captured, leading local authorities on a wild goose chase to find those responsible.

Faron, the gallery’s curator, discovered the treachery himself when he opened for the morning.
“I was flabbergasted! Flummoxed! Gobsmacked! Our most valuable item, gone, just like that. And right through our staff access door too- ahem Yes, of course I know I’m the only employee. What are you insinuating?”

Our reporter on the scene was promptly asked to leave, but not before gathering a comment on the failed security measures from an investigating officer with the BHPD.

“Listen, uh, our budget is stretched pretty thin, alright? The camera was from SAMKEA. Apparently anybody can connect to it on bluetooth- crazy, right? Yeah, we probably should have looked into that one. Wait- you’re not recording this, are you?”

Our reporter on the scene was then asked to leave for a second time, which they inform us didn’t matter because they were already leaving.

The last surviving frame of security footage before Triangle’s theft. Any citizens with a lead are asked to contact the BHPD Source: Banhattan Gallery.

As for the stolen artwork, Triangle has a long and controversial history that the gallery hopes does not end here. It was first housed in the original Banner Boys tower in Season 9, as the iconic centerpiece of a collection of largely nonsense designs suggested by ChatGPT in its infancy. The banner gained public renown for featuring exactly zero triangles. While some heralded the exhibition as the ‘nexus of machine and man’, others see Triangle as simply a cog in the great machine. Regardless, the value of the collection is undeniable, and until last night’s incident, Triangle remained the only piece still available for public viewing.

The BHPD has put out an open call seeking help with recovering the artifact. Interested parties should keep an ear out for further inphromation- er, information- very soon.

For now, this is Herald Saltire from the Global Golem, writing for Rusty’s Report. Take care out there.

Shocking End to Bridges Round 1

Round 1 Winning Team Spirit Submission

From the Desk of the Mods...

The last 10 years have been a blur of good friends and good times. Our official 10th Anniversary was on June 5th and I could not be more proud of this community. This place has been a (relatively, you know who you are.) safe space for me over the last decade. This community has shaped me to be the person I am today. I have learned how to be a good friend. I have learned culture because of our diverse player base. I speak for myself when I say this community has been a massive part of my life and I would not change it for the world.

Coming from Season 1 where we were jumping off cliffs to reset our hunger to season 8 where the server's largest raid farm was up and running by day 2. The shenanigans and tomfoolery with The Fallen One and all of the challenges that we faced with that, to the above being made amazing by the brilliance of Lite, Grifter and Limb. From Vanilla to Sponge to Paper.

The team of staff I have here along side of me are the best in the world and I would not trade any of them, even Lor. Every season has its challenges and every season we have the support of the community behind us propelling us to be better for you.

10 years of amazing people. Thank you all for being you. Thank you all for uplifting those around you. THANK YOU for being an impact for good in the sphere we call home on the internet.
